

LONG PUTTER BROOMSTICK

Starting at 48" long, our Broomstick putter certainly stands out. The "broomstick" or "long putter" alternative method skyrocketed in popularity throughout the 1990's, 2000's, and until the recent anchoring ban. While the act of anchoring is banned, long putters are conforming

Tour players around the world have used Broomstick putters without anchoring, and they've had a lot of success doing it! As long as your top hand is separated from your body, this method is a completely legal stroke. Now we're bringing all of these performance benefits into our 2-Ball Ten head shape that's incredibly popular on Tour. If you struggle with your putting, this could be just what you're looking for!

Legendary Alignment and Shaping

We've enhanced the Ten shape that's incredibly popular on Tour and with golfers, making it sleeker and more forgiving. This is our best 2-Ball model ever, and these features are engineered to help you frame the ball at address with your intended line.

Adjustable Weighting

The sole of our Broomstick putters are designed with adjustable weight screws to enhance stability for a more consistent stroke.

Broomstick Shaft

LONG PUTTER ARM LOCK

Since the anchoring ban a few years ago, golfers have been looking to find alternative methods to improve their putting. Arm Lock is the hottest Alternative Putting option on Tour, and it's an innovative, conforming design that still retains the benefits of an anchored putter. Now we're bringing all of these performance benefits into our new 2-Ball Ten head shape that's incredibly popular on Tour.

The elongated shaft and 7 degrees of loft allow the shaft to rest against the inside of the golfer's left arm without anchoring to your body. And this mallet head provides legendary 2-Ball alignment and a super high MOI shape to help improve your performance. If you want more confidence from a long putter, you need to roll an Arm Lock.
